2017-2018 Annual Report

SUCCESS STORIES

Elizabeth Hilbing, Redondo Beach resident, was laid off from her job early in 2018, thanks to a friend’s recommendation, she went to the South Bay One-Stop Business & Career Center - Torrance in May to seek training and find a way to continue her education toward earning her Project Management Principal (PMP) certification.

After being processed into the system, Elizabeth’s career counselor helped her search for the right course and university that matched her goal of obtaining her PMP certification as well as applying for funding to cover tuition. The One-Stop staff also gave her mock interviews while informing her of job openings aligned with her skill set.

Elizabeth interviewed for the position of Sr. Program Manager and Principal IT Business Partner with The Boeing Company and was hired full-time in October 2018 at a six figure salary. The company also cooperated in letting her finish her PMP certification through UC Irvine.

“I am very satisfied with the attention and support the Torrance One-Stop staff gave me and I recommend their services to anyone who is seeking job search skills and needing expanded learning and training.”

Jake Jenkins

“When I registered with the SBWIB and California State Employment Agency, I found it overwhelming. Fortunately, I noticed there was an office that serviced veterans. The link said I could receive one-on-one dedicated support and that was the first time I felt there was hope. Thinking that there was someone there who was willing to work with me made me feel I could be successful. Finding a job was one thing, but needing to cover past due rent and overcome the threat of eviction, along with needing gas just to get to interviews, and eventually, even to get to work were all things I could have never guessed I could get assistance covering. The leave of care and assistance I received has put me and my family on the road to a full recovery, and for that I will be forever grateful.”

IN THE NEWS

Teen Center’s 10th Anniversary

WHAT'S NEW

Federal Highway Administration Program

In partnership with Federal Highway Administration and California Department of Transportation, SBWIB, and Coastline Community College, offered the Building Trades Pre-Apprenticeship Multi-Craft Core Curriculum (MC3), a standardized, comprehensive, 140 hour construction curriculum designed to help individuals choose and succeed in an apprenticeship program that is appropriate for them. The program is approved through the North America's Building Trades (NABTU) as well as Los Angeles/Orange County Building Trades to provide the Multi-Craft Core Curriculum. The SBWIB first received funding totaling $300,000.00 and will soon be awarded an additional $445,000.00 to keep the training pipeline open for apprentices into the construction trades.

In addition to the MC3 curriculum and certificates- students also receive federally approved, nationally accredited Department of Labor OSHA Certificates and industry specific training necessary to work in the Construction/Utilities/Energy/Safety industries such as but not limited to: OSHA 30 HR Construction, OSHA 7405- Fall Protection Awareness, OSHA 7300- Confined Space Awareness, Respiratory Protection, Refinery Safety Orientation and Safety Attendant Training for Hole Watch, Bottle Watch and Fire Watch.

Below details the progress of students who successfully completed the MC3 Training; of the 50 graduates, 32 students were placed into entry level jobs in Construction, Utilities, Energy and Safety, 13 of which are union positions. Many of the students that were placed in non-union jobs are progressing through the process of their chosen union and will move up to a union job. With many still job searching or earning stackable related credentials, it is anticipated the remaining students will be placed soon.
